HUMBLE ORIGINS... LEGENDARY PERFORMANCE

A LEGACY OF CRAFTSMANSHIP

The year was 1965. "Low Deflection" and "Radial Consistency" were terms that would not find meaning for decades and Carbon Fiber was in its infancy... as was Viking Cues. In the cool, subterranean basement of a pool hall in Stoughton, Wisconsin, the first Vikings came to life. Without fanfare, those first cues paved the way for the development and evolution of Viking Cues for the next 59 years. Although Viking is now located in a state-of-the-art facility in Middleton, Wisconsin – just a few miles from where it all began – we still make 100% of our legendary Viking cues right here in our Midwest home— and we're more dedicated than ever to making the best cues and performance shafts you can buy. Our unrelenting commitment to craftsmanship results in the unmatched quality you can see and feel in every one of our legendary products.

Engineered for the details that get overlooked

It started with a simple observation at the table: cues had spent decades evolving through relentless innovation and craftsmanship, while the accessories players relied on every session were treated as an afterthought. Cases that looked good but were lacking features. Extensions that changed the way a cue felt in hand. Grips that gave out under pressure. TACTiQ was built to close that gap. Every case, extension, grip, and future product we make is engineered with purpose—no excess, no filler, just innovation that earns its place alongside the cue it supports. From materials and construction to form and function, each detail is guided by one standard: performance that holds up rack after rack, session after session. We believe your gear should work as hard as you do, protect what matters, and never get in the way of your focus. That's the standard TACTiQ was built to raise, and it's the standard behind everything we make.

Three decades of composite mastery

Whyte Carbon was founded on the shoulders of a legacy that spans three decades in the arena of high-performance sporting composites. The founders and engineers of began their journey developing composite shafts for brands like Callaway, Titleist, and TaylorMade in an industry that was transitioning from wood to steel to carbon fiber. It's history is intertwined with some of the greatest achievements in sports—developing products which have been a trusted part of victories in the Stanley Cup, the PGA Tour, and even the Olympic Games. Today, Whyte Carbon is part of the Triple 60 family of products, headquartered in Middleton, Wisconsin, where the engineers, along with others, continue to innovate and expand into other products to drive improvement for billiards enthusiasts worldwide. Working hand-in-hand with pro players like Fedor Gorst, Moritz Neuhausen, Margarita Fefilova Styer, & Justin Bergman, we've been able to bring radial symmetry, lower deflection, and a level of consistency the billiards world hasn't seen before. It's craftsmanship proven on the world's biggest stages, now built into every product that carries the Triple 60 name.

ONE SHAFT. ANY PIN. SECONDS TO SWAP.

With the patented Triple 60 Interchangeable Adapter System, switching between different joint types has never been easier. Using the included tool, this can be achieved in seconds. It's a fast, simple solution for your shaft that future-proofs your investment if you ever decide to change between cue manufacturers. True innovation for the future.

THE AURORA SERIES

CARMELI DESIGN BACKED BY VIKING: FOR A LIFETIME

Viking and master cue maker Ariel Carmeli return for their second collaboration, introducing the Aurora Series: A collection inspired by nature’s most breathtaking light show. Just as the Aurora Borealis paints the night sky in waves of blue, green, and white, each Aurora cue captures a similar luminouse movement through a striking palette of materials: iridescent abalone, rich blue stones, and hand-glued blue, green, and white true maple veneers set into premium Ebony, Curly Maple, and Birdseye Maple

Manufactured to Carmeli’s exacting standards and backed by Viking’s Lifetime Warranty, the Aurora Series builds on the proven partnership. The result are cues as striking to hold as they are to look at, where every material was chosen to echo the colors and glow of the auroroo itself.

HELIX

Master the timeless game of pool with our HELIX series of cues. A Helix is a curved formed by a straight line drawn on a plane where the plane is wrapped around a cylinder. Using this design essence we built our HELIX cues with imagery of twisting objects that defy time and space. Features of spirals, corkscrews, rings, tangled loops and swirling symbols enhanced by rich colors and mirror reflections.

For More Than 60 Years, QCO Brands have been the Player's Choice...

We didn't get this good overnight. Since 1965, Viking has made exceptional cues right here in the United States, designed them with striking style, and backed their craftsmanship with the Viking Lifetime Cue Warranty. From the very beginning we've known that your choice to own one of our products is a mark of pride, a pride that you stand above the rest. That mantra inspires us to ensure excellence comes standard in everything we do. Whether sweeping tournaments, dominating the local bar scene or playing the family in your basement, you chose us because you trust our craftsmanship. That trust has taken a lifetime to earn and we don't take it lightly. Because of you we know we are part of something greater.

From the entire QCO Family, Thank you.
